EDITORIAL

This fall the Bulletin enters upon its third year of publication, and in general the editors feel that it has been a worth while effort and is filling a need in our rather loosely knit body of alumni; certainly the communications which we have received would indicate that this is the case, and that there is an awakening interest in the affairs of the Medical School among its alumni. That there is room for improvement in the Bulletin we will admit, but it is also our conviction that this improvement will come about largely through an increased interest on the part of our readers, for it is upon them that we must rely for a large part of our most interesting news. From them must come our alumni items, and in this department there has been an encouraging improvement in the number of spontaneous contributions which we have received, but there is still a great need for short original papers and for communications. Every editor at times—perhaps at all times—feels the need of burning issues, and if necessary may go out and manufacture them. We have suffered from a lack of burning issues; perhaps they have been before our eyes but we have not seen them. Any graduate who has an honest, live, actively burning issue is invited to send it in and it will be received with open arms, but it must be no smoldering, damp affair. It is not smoke we want, but a fierce and burning flame. We had conceived the idea of offering cash prizes for burning issues but the treasurer soon put a stop to that.

Except financially the Association has prospered and is steadily improving its position and consolidating its ground. An important decision made during the last Academic year by the Council was gradually to cut down the number of alumni assistants we have been supporting in order to put the funds to uses more appropriate to our needs. The original plan was a good one, and it inaugurated a new policy, but it was never intended that the arrangement should be a permanent one. Another important decision was to share with the school the expenses of a secretary who could devote part of her time to caring for the business of the Association in a more orderly fashion than has hitherto been the case, and this has also been consummated. This naturally means that the Association has now a permanent office at the Medical School, which is a very logical arrangement, and communications may now be addressed there.

The annual meeting of the Association was held last June for the first time in Vanderbilt Hall, instead of at the School. Dr. William S. Thayer, President of the American Medical Association, was the speaker of the day, and entertained his audience with reminiscences of his student days at the School.

Dr. Arthur N. Crandell, Dr. Henry Faxon, and Dr. Charles A. Porter were elected councillors to replace Dr. Homer Gage, Dr. John W. Birnie, Dr. William R. Ohler, who retired this year.

A DECADE OF PROGRESS IN THE MEDICAL SCHOOL LIBRARY

BY DAVID L. EDSALL, M.D.

Dean of the Medical School

The developments that have occurred in the Library in the last decade have been of great importance to both students and staff. In the actual contents of the Library, there has been large increase. The Library Committee has given devoted attention to its work and Dr. Joslin, Chairman of that Committee until last year, is especially responsible for large accessions and greatly improved service, and Miss Whitman, the Librarian, has at each step made everything more comfortable and more available for all who consulted the Library. Ten years ago, there were 32,949 volumes; last year, there were 48,484. The change in pamphlets in the ten years has been from 58,478 to 112,182.

The very great improvement in the material available and in the convenience of getting at it, has also resulted in a very large increase in its use; but the latter was also influenced profoundly by the change in the curriculum seven years ago when a large part of the scheduled work was simply eliminated in all of the three first years so that the students had a great deal of free time that they had not before had, which time they now make use of for their own development in the ways that seem individually best for their own needs. The immediate result the year following this change was that the use of the Library went up almost 50% and in three years it doubled. The change in the ten years is shown in the fact that there were at the beginning of the ten year period, 13,150 visits in the year to the Library and last year 34,602 visits. The circulation of books and pamphlets increased in the same period from 3,957 to 21,538.

When a generous amount of free time was provided by the Faculty for the students and the amount of time employed by the various departments in teaching was thereby cut down, there were some persons who feared that this would mean simply that the students would waste their time. The above figures show what they have done with a great deal of it; and they are entirely supported by other records, as for example by the fact that in examinations here or elsewhere, the men have done better even than before, and the whole atmosphere among the student body has changed very largely. Before, they were so overburdened by set exercises of some sort that they had to attend all day long, that they had very little time or strength for individual reading or other individual development. Now, their thought is much less of the mere passing of courses and securing a degree and a license and much more of real training of themselves in an informed and scholarly attitude toward their professional work that goes far to make them better physicians not only immediately but especially after some years have passed. Training men in the Medical School in the habit of using medical literature and in ability to search out information effectively and to put it together intelligently is certainly as important a part of the training of the physician as is any other part, if he is going to be able to keep pace with the extraordinary strides that Medicine is making constantly. It is obvious that in order to do this, he needs some free time in which to be able to get this training. The fact that the old schedule was disadvantageous is additionally shown by the fact that since it was changed here, a large group of the best medical schools in the country have taken similar steps.

Very striking physical changes have occurred in the Library during the past year and constitute the most recent outstanding evidence of the many advantages to the Medical School that have come with the development of the School of Public Health. When the latter School was started, it combined its library interests with the Medical School and added considerable sums to the amount available for conducting the Library. A year and one-half ago, it became possible to secure for the School of Public Health, with the understanding that this was to be used in conjunction with the Medical School, $100,000 for reconstruction of the Library and for additional equipment, and a further $100,000, the income of which was to be used specifically for the Library budget.

In carrying out this plan, the old lecture room in Building A was done away with and the space used for stacks, and there are now three tiers of modern stacks in that space and cubicles to which workers may take their books and writing material and thus have quiet and privacy and may also leave the material there for a time and return to it, so that they do not have repeatedly to withdraw it and lose time and effort in doing so. There are also unenclosed tables and chairs in the stacks. In this way, about twenty-five people can be taken care of in such intimate methods of consulting the stacks. Also with the completion of the Dormitory, the old Students' Room on the second floor of Building A became unnecessary for the students' social use and the main reading room of the Library has therefore been moved from the ground floor of Building A to that room with consequent enlargement of space and great improvement in light and quiet and airiness of the room. And at the same time, the Ernst Room has been much enlarged and greatly improved in equipment and the main reading room and the Ernst Room connect immediately with each other and the latter immediately with the stacks. A room of adequate size is also now available on the same floor as a preparation room and likewise a large storage closet in addition, and the Librarian has a private room and a place for the shelving of special books, the large room previously occupied by the office of the Graduate Courses. The whole change was carried out with great taste by Mr. Henry R. Shepley of Coolidge, Shepley, Bulfinch & Abbott who made such an attractive building of the Dormitory. The changes provide very greatly increased reading space, much handsomer and more commodious library reading rooms and other quarters, and instead of being extremely overcrowded, the shelving space has been increased to two and one-half or three times what it was and at the rate of growth for the past ten years or so, should be sufficient to accommodate accessions for two decades or more to come. An adequate library is so near to being the heart of the activities of the students and the staff in such an undertaking as the study and the teaching of Medicine that this means much for the present and the future of the School.

It has permitted at the same time the use for general purposes that were very pressing of the space previously occupied by the Library on the ground floor. There was previously either very inadequate space or space that was quite unsuitable in character or location for certain important things, as for example the office of the Student Physician was previously on the top floor of Building D instead of being in the most accessible place possible, and the general administrative offices, planned twenty years ago for an undertaking about one-eighth of the present size, were still until this year confined to the original small space but this work can now be carried on in adequate quarters.

The Library Committee now contains equal representation from the Faculties of the Medical School and of the School of Public Health and the two Schools share equally in the cost of running the Library.

Perhaps the simplest and most easily understood contrast in the Library of the present day with that of the Library ten years ago, is seen in the fact that a decade ago the budget was the insignificant sum of $3,480 for Library purposes whereas now it is over $18,000. It will need within the next few years to be somewhat further increased but it is now able to work effectively and to provide comfortable facilities for work both in the reading rooms and in the stacks

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE HARVARD MEDICAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

About 100 Members Were Present June 20, 1928

Meeting called to order by the President, Dr. Truesdale, at 12:10 p. m. The minutes of the last meeting were accepted without reading. The Secretary reported on the progress of the Bulletin and made a plea for greater interest and co-operation in printing news.

The Treasurer's report was read by the Secretary in the absence of Dr. Horner.

Nominating Committee appointed: Dr. George R. Minot, Dr. Edward F. Cody, Dr. George W. W. Brewster.

Dr. Edsall spoke a few words on the value of the Dormitory to the undergraduate body and of the new Medical School Library, made possible largely through the generosity of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. William S. Thayer, of Baltimore,

President of the American Medical Association, gave some delightful reminiscences of his experiences in the Medical School as a student.

Dr. Joslin reported on the Alumni dinner at the American Medical Association meeting in Minneapolis.

The nominating committee presented the following names as councillors: Dr. Arthur Crandell of Taunton, Dr. Henry Faxon of Boston, Dr. Charles A. Porter of Boston.

Treasurer: Dr. A. A. Hornor of Boston.

Moved and seconded that the Secretary cast one ballot for their nomination.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH GARLAND, Secretary.

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL DINING HALL

The Medical School Dining Hall in Vanderbilt Hall was opened for the Faculty and students of the Harvard Medical School at luncheon on Monday, September 24th.

Table d'hote meals will be served at the following prices:

Breakfast .....	30c, 40c
Luncheon .....	60c
Dinner .....	75c

In accordance with the general club custom, members will sign a charge slip for each meal.

Charges incurred at the Medical School Dining Hall will be placed on the University term bills.

Special luncheon or dinner parties may be arranged for by giving notice at the Dean's Office.

The Medical School Dining Hall is a beautifully appointed room with a kitchen equipped with every modern appliance. The charges will cover only the cost of the service. No expense for rent, cost of equipment or interest on the investment, etc., such as other restaurants have to meet, is included in the price of meals, so that the board will be the best it is possible to serve for the prices charged. The success of the Dining Hall will depend largely upon the patronage it receives from the students and Faculty. The attendance is voluntary, but we believe the students will derive great benefit both from the point of view of health and sociability by patronizing the Dining Hall as far as is consistent with their other activities.

A. L. ENDICOTT, Comptroller.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE ASSOCIATION

The treasurer reports that returns from the dollar appeal sent out to members to whom we do not ordinarily appeal has been very satisfactory, thirty per cent. of those solicited having responded.

ANOTHER IMPOSTER

It has been called to the attention of the Association that one Gordon Hodges Bryant, appearing in a mental telepathy act, has been advertising himself as a graduate of the Harvard Medical School of the Class of 1908. The name of no such person is on the list of the Harvard Alumni Directory and he has never been enrolled in the University in any Department.

ENGAGEMENT

On July 27th, the late Mr. Peter Arthur Baldwin of Amityville, Long Island, announced the engagement of his daughter Margaret Elizabeth to Dr. Harvey Spencer of Boston.

Dr. Spencer is a graduate of Williams College and of the Yale University School of Medicine, and is an Assistant Resident in medicine at the Infants' and Children's Hospitals, and an Assistant in Pediatrics at the Harvard Medical School.

The wedding will be in November.

MEDICAL SCHOOL APPOINTMENTS

September 1, 1928

ANATOMY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Torr Wagner Harmer, M.D., Instructor.
Frank Andrew Hamilton, M.D., Assistant.
Harold Valmore Hyde, M.D., Assistant.
Reginald Dimock Margeson, M.D., Assistant.
George Calvin Prather, M.D., Assistant.
William Martindale Shedden, M.D., Assistant.

Cecil Crafts Cole, A.B., Teaching Fellow in Histology.

Gale Edward Wilson, S.B., Austin Teaching Fellow in Histology.

Reappointments with change of title—Three years from September 1, 1928:

Harold Lorraine Weatherford, A.M., Faculty Instructor in Anatomy from Instructor in Anatomy.

New Appointment—One year from September 1, 1928:

Henry Jacob Bakst, Ph.D., Teaching Fellow in Histology.

BACTERIOLOGY AND IMMUNOLOGY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Francis Browne Grinnell, M.D., Associate.
William Augustus Hinton, M.D., Instructor.

George McLean Lawson, M.D., Instructor.
Robert Nason Nye, M.D., Instructor.

Elliott Stirling Andrew Robinson, M.D., Ph.D., Instructor.

James Maxwell Alston, Ch.B., Research Fellow.

Reappointment—Three years from September 1, 1928:

William Lorenzo Moss, M.D., Assistant Professor of Bacteriology and Immunology.

New Appointment—One year from September 1, 1928:

Kenneth Goodner, M.A., Assistant in Bacteriology and Immunology.

BIOLOGICAL CHEMISTRY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Henry Lyman, M.D., Assistant.
Joseph Scarborough DeFrates, B.S., Austin Teaching Fellow.

Samuel Bernard Nadler, A.B., Teaching Fellow.

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Agustin Domingo Marenzi, D.Biochemistry, Research Fellow.

Juan Mauricio Munoz, M.D., Research Fellow.

Yellapragada Subba Row, M.B., Research Fellow.

Reappointments with change of title—Three years from September 1, 1928:

Ronald Mansfield Ferry, M.D., Assistant Professor of Biological Chemistry, from Instructor in Physical Chemistry.

New Appointment—One year from September 1, 1928:

Milan Alexander Logan, Ph.D., Instructor.

PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Helmut Dennig, M.D., Research Fellow.
Arda Alden Green, M.D., Research Fellow.

Reappointment with change of title—From September 1, 1928:

Edwin Joseph Cohn, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Physical Chemistry, from Assistant Professor of Physical Chemistry.

New Appointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

John Tileston Edsall, A.B., Research Fellow.

Thomas Leroy McMeekin, Ph.D., Research Fellow.

Jeffries Wyman, Jr., Ph.D., Research Fellow.

New Appointment—From September 1, 1928 to September 1, 1929:

George Paling Wright, M.D., Research Fellow.

DERMATOLOGY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

John Harper Blaisdell, M.D., Instructor.
Arthur Moses Greenwood, M.D., Assistant.

Clarence Guy Lane, M.D., Assistant.

Jacob Hyams Swartz, M.D., Assistant.

GYNAECOLOGY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Robert Montraville Green, M.D., Instructor.

Nathaniel Robert Mason, M.D., Instructor.
Frank Arthur Pemberton, M.D., Instructor.

Harold Woods Baker, M.D., Assistant.
Joseph Powititz Cohen, M.D., Assistant.

Harold Valmore Hyde, M.D., Assistant.
Frederick James Lynch, M.D., Assistant.

Reginald Dimock Margeson, M.D., Assistant.

John Rock, M.D., Assistant.

Edward Bernard Sheehan, M.D., Assistant.

Richard Goodwin Wadsworth, M.D., Assistant.

George Van Siclen Smith, M.D., Research Fellow.

Reappointments with change of title—One year from September 1, 1928:

Frederick Leo Good, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

John Thomas Williams, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

LARYNGOLOGY

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Harry Aldrich Barnes, M.D., Instructor.

Frederick Eugene Garland, M.D., Instructor.

Joseph Lincoln Goodale, M.D., Instructor.

Daniel Crosby Greene, M.D., Instructor.

Charles Davison Knowlton, M.D., Instructor.

Robert Lincoln Goodale, M.D., Assistant.

Edwards Woodbridge Herman, M.D., Assistant.

Norman McLeod Hunter, M.D., Assistant.

James Caleb Kirby, M.D., Assistant.

Duncan Campbell Smyth, M.D., Assistant.

Harold Grant Tobey, M.D., Assistant.

George Henry Wright, D.M.D., Assistant.

Reappointment with change of title—One year from September 1, 1928:

William Irving Wiggins, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

MEDICINE

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Gerald Blake, M.D., Instructor.

Maurice Fremont-Smith, M.D., Instructor.

Henry Jackson, Jr., M.D., Instructor.

Samuel Albert Levine, M.D., Alumni Instructor.

James Patrick O'Hare, M.D., Instructor.

William Richard Ohler, M.D., Instructor.

Francis Winslow Palfrey, M.D., Instructor.

William Bradford Robbins, M.D., Instructor.

William David Smith, M.D., Instructor.

Soma Weiss, M.D., Instructor.

Paul Dudley White, M.D., Instructor.

Frank Dennette Adams, M.D., Assistant.

Harry Blotner, M.D., Assistant.

Albert Willard Bromer, M.D., Assistant.

William Bosworth Castle, M.D., Assistant.

Randall Clifford, M.D., Assistant.

Percy Bernard Davidson, M.D., Assistant.

Arthur Carlton Ernstene, M.D., Assistant.

James Morison Faulkner, M.D., Assistant.

Lyman Howard Hoyt, M.D., Assistant.

Donald Storrs King, M.D., Assistant.

Hyman Louis Kramer, M.D., Assistant.

William Gordon Lennox, M.D., Assistant.

Wyman Richardson, M.D., Assistant.

Dwight Lewis Sisco, M.D., Assistant.

Reappointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

Howard Burnham Sprague, M.D., Assistant.

James Leavitt Stoddard, M.D., Assistant.

James Harvey Townsend, M.D., Assistant.

Louis Wolff, M.D., Assistant.

Howard Lang Alt, M.D., Teaching Fellow.

Walter Swan Burrage, M.D., Research Fellow.

Willard Owen Thompson, M.D., Research Fellow.

Reappointments with change of title—One year from September 1, 1928:

Walter Bauer, M.D., Instructor, from Research Fellow.

William Bradley Breed, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant Fellow.

Burton Everett Hamilton, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

Robert Thornhill Monroe, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

William Parry Murphy, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

Henry Pickering Walcott, Fellow in Clinical Medicine, from Research Fellow in Medicine.

Willard Owen Thompson, M.D., Instructor, from Assistant.

Reappointments—For three years from September 1, 1928:

Elliott Proctor Joslin, M.D., Clinical Professor of Medicine.

Frank Hamilton Hunt, M.D., Faculty Instructor in Medicine.

Francis Minot Rackemann, M.D., Faculty Instructor in Medicine.

William Henry Smith, M.D., Faculty Instructor in Medicine.

Reappointments with change of title—For three years from September 1, 1928:

Channing Frothingham, M.D., Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine, from Assistant Professor of Medicine.

Hermann Ludwig Blumgart, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine, from Faculty Instructor in Medicine.

Chester Morse Jones, M.D., Assistant Professor of Medicine, from Instructor and Henry Pickering Walcott Fellow in Clinical Medicine.

Henry Jackson, Jr., M.D., Faculty Instructor in Medicine, from Instructor in Medicine.

Soma Weiss, M.D., Faculty Instructor in Medicine, from Instructor in Medicine.

New Appointments—One year from September 1, 1928:

William Chauncey Egloff, M.D., Assistant.

Green Smith FitzHugh, M.D., Assistant.

Thomas Duckett Jones, M.D., Assistant.

Robert Sterling Palmer, M.D., Assistant.
